Cookie Preferences

We may assign your computer one or more Cookies, which are a standard Internet tool. A Cookie is a small data file stored as text files by your web browser on your computer's hard drive. Most Internet browsers are initially set to accept Cookies. You can set your browser to refuse Cookies from web sites or remove them from your device, although please note that this may cause certain features or functions of our Web site to not work properly.

We use Cookies, "web beacons," and other similar technologies to collect information in connection with our Web site and marketing efforts. For more information about how we use cookies visit our privacy policy.

At this time, our Web site is configured to recognize the GLOBAL PRIVACY CONTROL signal as a request to opt-out of the sale of personal data, and users who visit our Web site with the GLOBAL PRIVACY CONTROL signal enabled will have all but strictly necessary cookies blocked on our Web site. This Web site does not recognize other "do not track" signals. You may also change your cookie preferences at any time by visiting our Cookie Preferences page.
